BIRDS

OF THE
 CANTON LAND
 CONSERVATION TRUST
 PROPERTIES

The Canton Land Conservation Trust (CLCT) owns more than 2,000 acres within the Town of Canton and maintains a number of larger properties and trail systems. This list encompasses species likely to be observed on these properties. By their nature, birds can and do show up where they are not expected.

Sightings of species not found on this list should be reported to info@clct.org/birds.

Habitats:

A majority of the CLCT properties are mixed deciduous woodlands. Unless otherwise noted, birds on this checklist are woodland species.

More open habitats include:
 Aquatic – (marshlands, brook corridors)
 Goedecke, Humphrey (Cherry Brook);
 Potter (Meadow Road marshland);
 Open fields, grasslands –
 Mary Conklin, Breezy Hill;
 Brushlands – 2016 bunnycut
 Sun, Wind & Woodlands
 Traprock Ridge – The Onion Mountain properties provide a unique and critical habitat.

Seasons:

Spring – March-May
 Summer – June-July
 Fall – August-November
 Winter – December-February

Frequency/Abundance:

COMMON – to be expected in suitable habitat
 UNCOMMON – may be seen/heard in suitable habitat
 RARE – may occur sporadically (not every year)
 MIGRANT – passes through the area in migration
 IRRUPTIVE – many individuals may appear one year and none the following year
 RESIDENT – confirmed or probable nester
